

A New Stupa

SHAMARPA'S PRESENCE AT DHAGPO

A stupa symbolizes the different aspects of the path towards enlightenment. In the tradition of Tibetan Buddhism, there exist eight specific forms which relate to important moments in the life of Buddha Shakyamuni. Emblems of peace and harmony, these edifices shelter scrolls of prayers and wishes, precious substances, as well as relics of great masters.

The new stupa will preserve fragments of the physical presence of Kunzig Shamar Rinpoche (1952 – 2014), thus sealing his blessing at Dhagpo Kagyu Ling. According to Thaye Dorje, His Holiness the 17th Gyalwa Karmapa, the relics are "the reflection of the impermanence and fragility of our physical world."
